

Heather McDowell Strategic Advisor Seattle City Light

Heather McDowell serves Seattle City Light as a Strategic Advisor for the utility's Environment, Engineering & Project Delivery Business Unit. She supports numerous City Light divisions including Energy Delivery Operations, Generation, and Engineering & Technology Operations. Prior to joining the utility in 2015, Heather held positions with the Human Resources and Fire Departments of Californian municipality. She has also served as a legal assistant for law firms in Seattle and Los Angeles, specializing in areas such as maritime insurance defense, fiduciary responsibility, estate, general litigation, and employer advisory.

Heather holds a Master's degree in Human & Organizational Development from Azusa Pacific University and a Bachelor's degree in Sociology from the University of Washington. She is also a Senior Certified Professional from the International Public Management Association for Human Resources and holds a Master's Certificate in Labor Relations (CLRM) from CalPELRA.